New Business

None.

Other Such Matters

Office of Research & Economic Development Re-organization

- Dr. Jennifer Taylor is in the process of reorganizing the Office of Research & Economic Development to be more centralized for support. The desire is to have pre-award and post-award support.

FY23 Budget Preparedness Plan

- Colleges received a 2.5% budget cut. An additional $200,000 was taken from four other colleges, but the College of Education was exempt from the additional cut. The College of Education's budget adequately reflects enrollment trends.

Tenure & Promotion Data

- Forming a college-level taskforce to create criteria for Tenure & Promotion. Will consist of selected faculty from each academic department. Initial meeting scheduled for April 28.
- New work load policy is 15/15 (15 class hours each semester). May be reduced for service, graduate faculty status, etc.
- Dean Zagumny created a spreadsheet that compiles data from Faculty Tenure Cover Sheets to compare within and across departments.
- Provost Bruce looks at balance of teaching, research, and service. It's important that faculty teach undergraduate and graduate classes when qualified.

S'mores & Outdoors – Freshman Transition Event

- Transition event welcoming current '21-'22 freshmen from the Launchpad Student Success Center to the College of Education Student Success Center.
- April 20, 4-6pm. Serving s'mores, hotdogs, etc.

Other Announcements

- Courtney Wynne is the new Testing Center Coordinator. The Testing Center now offers the GRE (Graduate Record Examination).
- Psychology had an undergraduate program review this week and received a glowing exit review. The reviewer specifically recognized Derek Edwards, Nicole Henniger, and Doug Hensley for their outstanding contributions to the program.
